

COOKIE POLICY

What Is A Cookie?

We may store small amounts of information about you or your current session in a file known as a cookie (which is sent by us to your computer or other access device) which we can access as you use the site and when you visit us in future.

Cookies Are Safe!

They are really tiny plain text files that cannot do anything harmful on your computer. They can not carry viruses, send you spam or be any type of threat. We also can't read any information from cookies given to you from other sites. We can access only our own and your browser makes sure of it and even if we could, we promise you, we wouldn't.

We Use Cookies For The Following Reasons:

To help provide our booking services, without an ability to remember what you were purchasing, we would be unable to offer an effective booking facility.

Further Information

For more information about cookies visit: <http://www.aboutcookies.org/default.aspx?page=5>

To learn about controlling what cookies you accept - <http://www.aboutcookies.org/default.aspx?page=1>

To find out how to delete cookies - <http://www.aboutcookies.org/default.aspx?page=2>

Whilst it is entirely up to you whether to delete your cookies or not, you may find that doing so lessens your experience of using this site.